

Robyn Cooper

Robyn Cooper received her Bachelor of Fine Arts from Adelphi University and her Master of Fine Arts from the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts where she also worked as a college Admissions Counselor. She is a nationally exhibiting artist and has participated in shows at The Heckscher Museum, The Art League of Long Island, The Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, Gross McCleaf Gallery, R. Dixon Gallery, and uBe Art. Her work is in several private collections including The Hershey Trust in Hershey, PA. Robyn maintains a studio practice on Long Island where she has provided art instruction as an Adjunct Professor at Adelphi University and Suffolk Community College, and also instructs high school students for college art portfolio preparation at The Manes Education Center.